Forecast For East of England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Tuesday 12 Oct 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Becoming largely cloudy with outbreaks of rain.

Today:
Bright to start but becoming rather cloudy with patchy outbreaks of mostly light rain. Some brighter spells possible in the far east later in the day, though remaining drab to the west. Maximum temperature 14 deg C (57 deg F).

Tonight:
Remaining cloudy in the west, though rain should ease toward midnight. Cloud will continue to break in the east leaving clear and cold spells, with a touch of grass frost. Minimum temperature 2 deg C (36 deg F).

Wednesday:
Variable amounts of cloud with bright spells or sunny intervals across the region through the day. Dry initially but a chance of isolated showers later. Maximum temperature 15 deg C (59 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Mainly dry Thursday but rather cloudy. A band of cloud and some light rain moves southwards early Friday, brightening later and into Saturday. Becoming cooler but with sunny spells.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.